

Contact: James Disco
972.213.7869
jamesdisco@msn.com

For Immediate Release
August 1st, 2012

Pass the torch!

Winners of the "You Want to be a Comic Book Artist, Historian or Just Want to Make a Difference Contest"
To be announced!

Join us Sunday August 19th as we announce the winners of the Survivors of Slavery Art Contest.

"View art by students from George Bannerman Dealey, the DFW area, and art by ESL students in the San Diego Unified School District".

A panel of judges will decide whose work will appear in the upcoming graphic novel: "Upstanders Quest". This timely graphic novel is created by the team who brought you the award winning graphic novel: "Echoes of the Lost Boys of Sudan" and illustrated by Keith Douglas..Echoes was recently listed on the CBS Best of DFW as one of the 5 Must Read Books by DFW Authors.

Texas Visual Arts Association
& The TVAA Gallery
Presents

Student Artwork Show
Illustrating Stories
From the Upcoming Graphic Novel
Upstanders Quest: True Stories of Survivors of Slavery
August 1 - 31, 2012
Reception: August 19, 2012 from 2pm to 4 pm
With Artwork from the George Bannerman Dealey Montessori Vanguard & International Academy of the Dallas Independent School District and Artwork From San Diego Unified School District

TVAA Gallery The Plaza of the Americas 700 N. Pearl St. Suite G-207 Dallas, Texas 75201 972-951-7879 tvaa.org

In addition to the opportunity of being published, all first, second and third place winners will receive a Comic Book from the esteemed collection of Comic Book Historian William H. Foster III. Artwork will be on display at the TVAA Gallery during the month of August.

TVAA Gallery
The Plaza of Americas
700 N. Pearl St. Suite G-207
Dallas, Texas 75201
972-951-7879
tvaa.org